Passenger and Cruise Sector

The Bahamas Maritime Authority is a trusted market leader in the cruise and passenger ship sector

The Bahamas Maritime Authority's (BMA) deep understanding and extensive knowledge of the luxury cruise and passenger ship sector form the backbone of the registry's leading status in a market that is always pushing the boundaries.

Creative thinking and expertise enable The BMA to support shipowners as they strive to offer new, state-of-the-art ship design innovations and services that go beyond the traditional. These may not have been tried or tested before, but The BMA is able to ensure that all international safety standards are satisfied. Our strong relationships with all the major international shipyards ensure the registry has a significant voice in the design and construction process.

The BMA works with a wide range of operators from larger, high-profile ships to smaller, niche enterprises

The BMA is also actively engaged in a range of industry-wide safety projects, such as SafePASS and Flare, that are working to develop and augment safety and security, as well as enhance sustainable cruise ship practices and standards.

The Authority has a broad portfolio of active cruise and passenger vessels and works closely with a wide range of operators from larger, high-profile corporations carrying thousands of passengers to smaller, niche enterprises. Furthermore, our comprehensive global network guarantees that we can meet every need wherever in the world it arises, a facility that has helped cement our prominent position within the cruise ship sector.

Providing an authoritative voice for the global cruise community

The BMA works closely with the world's largest cruise and passenger industry associations, taking a proactive stance as a leading authority and providing a unified voice for the global cruise community.
